Japan Outbound Trade Mission

Tokyo & Fukuoka, Japan

July 25-31, 2026

Japan is a leading market for U.S. food and agricultural exports, with a population of over 123 million and the world's fourth-largest economy. Since the U.S.-Japan Trade Agreement took effect in January 2020, high-quality American products have become even more competitive in a market where consumers continue to value safe, healthy, and premium-quality foods.

This Outbound Trade Mission will give Western U.S. food and beverage companies the opportunity to meet buyers in Japan's largest metro area and visit Fukuoka for insight into the food and beverage ecosystem on Kyushu. Participants will gain valuable exposure to food culture, distribution, and market opportunities across two distinct regions of Japan.

Benefits of Participation:

- Meet one-on-one with Japanese buyers seeking U.S. products
- Gain insight into regional market opportunities through the Fukuoka stop
- Participate in market briefings, facility tours, and retail tours
- Receive interpreter support
- Take part in a USDA market briefing and guided market tours
- Hotel accommodations arranged by WUSATA and provided for one company representative
- Ground transportation between cities, including train travel, arranged by WUSATA for one company representative
- Receive information to support product sample shipment

Companies are responsible for international airfare, meals and incidental expenses, and product sample shipment costs and arrangements.
